EXPLANATION on CANCELLATION

1. Cancellation needs to be done by already admitted students before taking admission in the spot round when they are assured of a seat in the College/ University of their preference. No restoration will be allowed once the admission is cancelled by the student. Such students can use their existing login on assamadmission.samarth.ac.in and need not register again.
2. Students who could secure an admission in either of the rounds but still wish to take admission in another college or even in the same college under a different programme or major discipline, may also apply for more options in the spot round.
3. Students who have not secured admissions in the first and second round can participate in the spot admission round. All of their applications submitted prior to Spot admissions against which admissions are not yet granted in either of the Merit admission rounds shall be considered for spot round as well. If the students want to make any changes to their application or apply in more colleges/programme they may either edit their existing applications or freshly apply for more colleges/programmes, provided they have not exhausted all ten options. Such students can use their existing login on assamadmission.samarth.ac.in and need not register again.
4. Students can apply upto ten options. In case they have already filled all ten forms, they may discard any of the application and fill out a new application/form for the college/programme/major of their choice.
